DEGREE OF M. D.

A Candidate for the Degree of M.D. must have been engaged in Medical and Surgical study for four years—the Medical Session of each year, or Annus Medicus, being constituted by Matriculation and Attendance on full courses of Lectures in at least two classes by separate Professors.

One year's instruction under a respectable Medical Practitioner, previous to attendance on Lectures, and duly certified to the satisfaction of the Medical Faculty prior to the Student entering upon his studies, will be received as equivalent to a year's College attendance, and will, in such cases, constitute the first Annus Medicus. A similar exemption from one year's attendance on Lectures will be accorded to Graduates in Arts.

The Candidate must have given regular attendance on full Courses of Instruction in the following departments of Medical science, for the periods stated:—

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 2. Theory and Practice of Medicine,                  |  |
| 3. Materia Medica and Pharmacy,                      |  |
| 4. Chemistry,  |  |
| 5. Obstetrics and Diseases of Womenand Children, |  |
| 6. Anatomy,  | } Two courses each.                          |

| 8. Anatomical Demonstrations,                        |  |
| 9. Forensic and State Medicine,                      |  |

| 12. Hospital,  |  |
|  | } Twelve months.                             |

The above course of study may have been pursued either wholly in Queen's College, or partly in Queen's College, and partly in some other recognized Medical School. In the latter case, at least one full Session must have been spent in Queen's College, during which at least four of the above six months' courses must have been attended.

Certificates of attendance on Lectures are received from incorporated Medical Schools in the British Dominions, and others recognized by the British Universities and Licensing Colleges. Other certificates of attendance on Lectures will be admitted at the discretion of the Faculty.

Every Candidate must deliver before 15th February of the year in which he proposes to graduate, to the Secretary of the Faculty of Medicine, a Declaration under his own hand that he is twenty-one years of age, or will be so before the day of graduation, accompanied by a certificate of good moral character, a statement of his studies, literary and scientific as well as medical, with proper certificates, and a Thesis composed by himself, and in his own handwriting, to be approved by the Medical Faculty.

The Candidate must have passed a Matriculation Examination in the common branches of English Education, and also on one or more of the following works:—Cæsar's Commentaries; London Pharmacopœia; Gregory's Conspectus; Celsus: De Medicina.

The Classical Examination is not required where the Student produces a certificate of having passed a similar or equivalent Matriculation examination at any other College.

Each Candidate shall be examined both in writing and viva voce—first, on Materia Medica, Chemistry, Anatomy and Institutes of Medicine:—these subjects constituting the Primary Examination; secondly, on Surgery, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Forensic and State Medicine, Obstetrics, Clinical Medicine, and Clinical Surgery, which are the subjects of the Final Examination.

Students who profess themselves ready to submit to the Primary Examination, that is, to an examination on the first division of these subjects, at the end of their third year, may be admitted to examination at that time. The Final Examination, embracing the second division of subjects, shall not take place until the candidate has completed his fourth or last session.

The Primary and Final Examinations will commence on the 9th of March in each year, or the first lawful day thereafter, and be concluded before the last Thursday of March, which is the day fixed for Graduation.

Additional papers in Classics or in subjects of the Final Examination will be set for candidates for honors.

The Graduation Fee is $20.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The Law Session begins on the first Monday in January, and extends over the three following months.

The hour for Lecture is from 9 to 10 A.M., so as to admit of Students attending the Arts Classes or Law Offices in the city.

The course of Lectures each year will correspond with the subjects hereinafter given for examination for a Degree.

The Student must pass an examination on the subjects lectured upon each year.

DEGREE OF LL.B.

The Degree of LL.B. is obtained by attending for three Sessions the Lectures delivered by the Law Faculty, and by passing the Matriculation examination at the beginning of the first Session, and the examination at the close of each Session. The Matriculation examination may be postponed till the second Session, provided the Student attend the Latin class in the Faculty of Arts along with the Law class, during the first Session.

A Student is exempted from the Matriculation examination on producing a certificate that he has undergone an examination for admission as a Student of the Laws on the Books of the Law Society for Upper Canada, or an equivalent examination in any College.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Board of Trustees of Queen's College.

The Trustees of Queen's College beg to submit to the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connexion with the Church of Scotland, the following annual report upon the progress and present position of the College, together with detailed financial statements.

The following statement shows the number of Students in the several Faculties at the close of the College Session :—

Arts ...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	37
Theology ...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	21
Medicine ...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	81
Law ...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	5
Total ...								144

The number of Students in the Arts Faculty studying with a view to the ministry is 18.

During last Session a Code of Statutes, Rules, and Ordinances, for the government of the University, was drawn up and adopted by the Trustees. It was in the power of the Trustees, in accordance with the Royal Charter, to frame such code at the foundation of the College, but it was deemed desirable to wait till experience suggested the most suitable regulations. The University having now expanded so as to embrace the Faculties of Arts, Theology, Law, and Medicine, it was felt that the framing of statutes could no longer be delayed. The Charter gives power to amend the present code or frame new statutes, as experience and the future progress of the College may demand.

Notwithstanding many kind donations and a few purchases from matriculation fees, which are applied to this purpose, the College Library continues very imperfect.

The practical training of Students for the duties of the ministerial office is still carried on with satisfactory results under the care of the Principal. The senior students are employed every Sabbath in addressing audiences at various Stations and Institutions or in teaching Sabbath schools, the Principal and Professors accompanying them in their work. It is found that the pulpit exercises of the Hall do not serve the purpose of such addresses as the above, delivered to actual audiences. The exercises in pulpit elocution, referred to in last report, are still carried on with satisfactory results. An hour is devoted each week to the hearing of short discourses delivered memoriter in the Convocation Hall before the Theological Professors, who give their criticism on the delivery. This exercise is found to be of great advantage in giving self-possession and ease of delivery. Defects that may have been unconsciously acquired are pointed out, so that the students are guarded against habits which might seriously mar the efficiency of their pulpit ministrations. Such exercises are of special importance in this country, where an effective pulpit address is essential to the success of a minister.

The Bursary Scheme has not met with that cordial support which was anticipated and which it so deservedly merits. The funds at the disposal of the Trustees have proved quite inadequate to meet the wants of young men studying for the ministry. This is the more to be regretted, as the demand for laborers is rapidly increasing. Constant applications are made for catechists to aid in raising congregations in promising localities which cannot be met for the want of students. This difficulty must be greatly increased if the Bursary Fund fall off. The Lord, in His providence, is loudly calling us to occupy the land and make the waste places rejoice in the Gospel sound; and the most effectual way to respond to this call is to aid a scheme which has for its great end the raising up of men fitted for the work.

The new wing of the Hospital has been completed, and affords accommodation for a large operating theatre and chapel. This wing has been erected by the munificence of a single individual, John Watkins, Esquire, at a cost of upwards of £1,250.

The Observatory is not yet fully equipped; but the Royal Astronomical Society of London has granted the use of an instrument till a permanent transit circle be completed. The Astronomer Royal, Mr. Airy, has kindly undertaken to superintend the execution of a large transit circle, as soon as sufficient funds are secured. The lectures in connection with the Observatory have been attended by very large audiences.

The College has sustained a great loss by the death of the Rev. Dr. Machar, who was a trustee from the foundation of the College, and for several years acted as Principal, and Professor of Hebrew. His practical wisdom, scholarly attainments, and devoted attachment to the Church of Scotland, were of invaluable benefit to the College during its whole history.

Professor John C. Murray was appointed to the chair of Moral and Mental Philosophy at the beginning of last session. He was strongly recommended by the Convener of the colonial committee as the candidate best fitted for the office. Many of the leading men of Scotland also bore the strongest testimony to his qualifications. The spirit of inquiry which he has excited during the past session, and the voluntary attendance of students not belonging to the class, afford evidence that the confidence of the Trustees in his qualifications has not been misplaced.

The University question has advanced a step by the report of the University Commissioners. That report proposes a scheme of University reform which essentially consists of two distinct parts—the one being purely academic, the other financial. The Commissioners applied to the Senate of the University of Toronto and the heads of the various Colleges for suggestions as to the best organization for the advancement of the higher education in Canada, apart altogether from the financial question—the idea being, that if all the bodies agreed as to the academic organization, an important step would be taken in settling the long-vexed financial question. No financial queries were put to the various academic bodies, as this was a matter with which Parliament could best deal. Besides, the financial views of the various bodies were already well known. There was a substantial agreement in the suggestions made by the Senate of the University of Toronto and the various Colleges, and the academic scheme proposed by the Commissioners is based on these suggestions. Its essential character is to have one University Board, in which all the Colleges are equally represented, a common curriculum, and a common examination, so that all students receiving degrees may be subjected to the same test. According to this arrangement, Queen's College would confer degrees in virtue of its Royal charter, but only on students who have passed the examination of the common University Board—the examination taking place at Kingston. The following are the replies of the Senate of Toronto to the queries of the Commissioners in reference to an academic reform :

REPLIES OF SENATE OF UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO TO QUERIES ON AFFILIATION, &c., &c.

QUERY I.—Do you approve of the affiliation of the Colleges of Upper Canada to one University Board, and if so, state the advantages?

I. The Senate are of opinion that it is desirable to have one University Board for Upper Canada, which may be designated “The University of Upper Canada,” to which certain Colleges, such as are hereinafter stated, should be affiliated.

Amongst the advantages of this arrangement may be mentioned—the adoption of an uniform and equal course of instruction by such Colleges; the fixing of the value of degrees, the promotion of emulation amongst the affiliated Colleges, and the testing of the merits of different modes of instruction.

QUERY II.—Do you consider the present system of affiliation to the University of Toronto unsatisfactory, and if so, state the reasons?

II. The present system of affiliation under the statute is unsatisfactory, as it is practically inoperative. No sufficient inducements are held out for those Colleges which possess University powers to give up or restrict them. The absence of limitation relative to the number and composition of the Senate is also objectionable.

QUERY III.—What system of affiliation do you consider the most satisfactory, with special reference to the following points:—

- (1) The mode of securing an equal standard of education.
- (2) The principle of apportionment of funds from public sources.
- (3) The exercise of University powers by the affiliated Colleges.
- (4) The composition of the general University Board.

III. (1) The Colleges affiliated under the University Board should be those which adopt a common curriculum, prescribed by a general University Board, which submit their students for simultaneous examination by Examiners appointed by such Board, and should have an adequate staff of Professors for giving instruction in the curriculum.

(2) The Senate would suggest that whatever funds the Legislature may see fit to set apart in aid of the Colleges affiliated by the University Act, exclusive of University College, should be divided into three equal parts, two of these to be divided equally amongst such Colleges, the other to be distributed in proportion to the beneficial results effected by such Colleges. It is to be understood that this suggestion is not intended to interfere with the endowment of University College, it being the opinion of the Senate that University College has a first claim to a fixed endowment amply sufficient to its support in its present state of efficiency; and that it should have the power to establish Faculties of Law and Medicine, with the same support which is granted to corresponding Faculties in the other Colleges, and also that it should be placed as to University powers on a par with them.

(3) Such exercise should be limited to conferring degrees on such of their students as may have passed the prescribed examinations in the University of Upper Canada, except in the Faculty of Divinity.

(4) The number of the members of the Senate should be determined by the number of affiliated Colleges, one-third to be heads of such Colleges, one-third to be elected by the graduates of each College, and one-third to be appointed by the Provincial Government.

In connection with these answers the Senate would further beg to suggest that in any new arrangement of the proposed University of Upper Canada, a Convocation should be created composed of the graduates of the Provincial University, with such powers as the Legislature may think fit to confer upon the said Convocation, and especially with that of the election of the Chancellor of the University.

COPY OF REPLY OF REVEREND DR. M'CAUL UPON AFFILIATION, ETC.

March 29, 1862.

SIR—In reply to the questions proposed to me by the Commissioners of inquiry relative to one University Board, and different systems of affiliation, I beg to state that I concur in the answers to these questions by the Senate of the University of Toronto.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

(Signed)

JOHN McCAUL.

D. BUCHAN, Esq., Secretary.

The above suggestions on academic points were unanimously assented to by the Senate, and Dr. McCAUL, as head of University College, gave his concurrence. The only financial point introduced into the replies of the Senate, and at the instance of those specially interested in the welfare of University College, was the following: "It is to be understood that this suggestion is not intended to interfere with the endowment of University College, it being the opinion of the Senate that University College has a first claim to a fixed endowment amply sufficient to its support in its present state of efficiency." This clause did not express any opinion as to the mode in which the surplus was to be applied—the act of 1853 having already determined that point.

The report of the Commission also embraces a financial as well as academic scheme, but this is not founded on any suggestions of the academic bodies. It is founded on the Act of 1853, which provides that "any surplus of the said University funds remaining at the end of any year, after defraying the expenses payable out of the same, shall constitute a fund to be from time to time payable, appropriated by Parliament for academic education in Upper Canada." The Commissioners refrained from putting any questions to the various Colleges in reference to the disposal of this surplus; they acted on their own responsibility, and made such proposals as the act of 1853 warranted. We have thus in the report an academic scheme emanating from the academic bodies, and a financial one emanating from the Commissioners themselves; and it is important, in the understanding of the question, that the two schemes should be conceived of as distinct. The financial scheme may prove to be impracticable, while the academic may still claim our support. And if a system of higher education be adopted unanimously by the academic bodies, we have reason to hope that adequate public support shall be secured by Parliament, though not in the precise manner suggested by the Commissioners.

At a recent meeting of the Senate of Toronto, the Commissioners' report was discussed, and a resolution was moved, the object of which was to withdraw the assent to the academic scheme which the Senate had previously given. After long discussion, in which the distinction between the financial and academic schemes was clearly pointed out, an amendment was unanimously carried leaving the academic scheme untouched, but affirming that in that scheme there was no sanction given to any plan of partitioning the revenues of the University. This was assented to by all, as it was clearly understood that the scheme of the Senate was purely academic, and that the proposed plan of apportioning the surplus emanated entirely from the Commissioners themselves. Another resolution was carried by a majority disapproving of the financial plan of the Commissioners. This, from the present constitution of the Senate, was to be looked for, and it was never anticipated that the Senate should approve of any such plan. The position of the question now is, that there is still the same unanimity as to the academic scheme; and this is the real point at issue, for sooner or later the financial question must be subordinated to what is best for the educational interests of the country. The settlement of the question has hitherto been retarded by basing it on financial grounds. There is more probability of a speedy settlement by first determining what academic scheme is best for the country, assured that the spread of enlightenment and a sense of justice will lead Parliament to provide adequate support for such scheme.

While the College aims at affording to the youth of Canada generally an academic education in the various faculties, it is always steadily kept in view that the special object of the Institution is to prepare ministers for the church with which it is closely connected, and that facilities are afforded other students only in as far as is compatible with this object. It is very important that the youth who are to form the future ministers of the church should, during the Arts as well as the Theological course, be surrounded with healthful religious influence. This is the ground on which the church maintains an Arts faculty, instead of requiring her students to study at Universities where no religious guarantee is afforded. The prosperity of the College will depend mainly on the warm interest taken in its welfare by the ministers and members of the church; and the Trustees again solicit a continuance of that interest, assured that by the blessing of God and the hearty support of the church, the institution will prove eminently successful in diffusing learning and promoting the cause of religion in Canada.

By order of the Board of Trustees.

W. IRELAND,
Secretary to the Board.

Kingston, 20th May, 1863.

Board of Trustees of Queen's College.

The near approach of the meeting of Synod, affords the Trustees another opportunity of placing before the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland a statement of the affairs of this University, together with full information in regard to its present position. Although open to and entered by students of all denominations, Queen's College has peculiar claims upon the sympathies and aid of all in this Province who claim connection with the Church of Scotland, as the training Institution for the Ministry of that Church, with its Theological and Arts Faculties in large measure supported by Church Funds, and also as, under the wise provisions of the Royal Charter, controlled by Trustees who are Ministers or members of the same Church.

The number of students in the various Faculties was as follows at the close of the College Session :—

Arts ...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	39
Theology	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	22
Medicine	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	85

It is with much satisfaction that the Trustees are again able to report an increase to the number of students in the Theological Hall, 22 forming the largest class ever enrolled, and being an increase of five over last year. In view of the many vacant stations of our Church, and of the large districts where the Presbyterian population attached to her communion are as yet unprovided for, the growth of this department of Queen's College gives it stronger claims upon the attention of the Synod. The number of students in the Arts Faculty who have announced their intention to study for the Ministry is 19, so that the Queen's College is now preparing 41 for the sacred office.

The plan mentioned in last Report of affording practical training for the pastoral office by employing the senior Theological students in Missionary and Sabbath School duty has been continued, and the success with which it has been attended has been very encouraging. Two Mission stations, and the Kingston Hospital, Gaol, and House of Industry, have thus been regularly supplied on Sabbath with religious services, chiefly conducted by students under the supervision of the Principal, and at four Sabbath Schools they are employed in the work of instruction. This training is found by the students to be of great service, and is, at the same time, regarded by them as a labor of love in which they can readily engage without injury to their course of study during the week. Mr. JAMES B. MULLEN is entitled to special mention for the efficient manner in which he has aided the Principal to carry on the system thus successfully introduced.

A new exercise in pulpit elocution has been tried, and which promises satisfactory results. The Theological students in rotation are called upon to deliver short discourses memoriter in the Convocation Hall, which are heard by the Professors, and the delivery is then criticised by them. This exercise is in addition to the regular discourses delivered in the classroom; and during the weekly hour, thus occupied, these students have a valuable opportunity afforded to them of employing their oratorical powers, and of benefiting by the experienced advice of their instructors. Defects of delivery or of style uncorrected in youth may mar the future success of a Minister, and greatly detract from his usefulness. It is hoped that ere long arrangements may be made for the delivery of regular lectures in Queen's College on Rhetoric and Elocution, but in meanwhile the plan thus adopted may be considered as a valuable addition to the course of instruction. The peculiar circumstances of Canada require that special attention should be paid to the mode of securing an effective delivery. In more settled states of society, where associations and habits are fixed and permanent, a Minister may prove eminently useful though his pulpit talents are of an inferior order; but in a new country it is essential that he be an effective speaker to gather a large congregation around him. It is true that in most localities there are settlers who are ardently attached to the Church of Scotland, and who cling to her services under every disadvantage; yet there are but few districts where a large congregation can be formed without drawing in many who have no such ties, and these will, at first, be attracted chiefly by the personal gifts of the preacher.

The Faculty of Law has been sustained with considerable success, and the progress made by the students during the Session was such as to draw forth the highest commendation from their Professors. So long, however, as the lectures in this Faculty are not regarded as a substitute for the keeping of Terms at Osgoode Hall, the department will labor under a great disadvantage. Representations having been made to many gentlemen of eminence in the legal profession with favorable results, the College has memorialized the Law Society on the subject. Should the desired boon be granted, the legal education of a student will be completed without the expense and inconvenience of going to Toronto; and there is the more hope of such a concession, as it is admitted that the longer attendance and steadier application of students under the Law Faculty enable them to acquire a much larger amount of legal knowledge than is possible during the short and broken periods spent in Toronto in keeping term.

Several important changes in the Medical Faculty will contribute greatly to its efficiency and usefulness. Through the munificence of a citizen of Kingston, JOHN WATKINS, Esq., who has given £1000 cy. to add a wing to the Kingston Hospital, a spacious Clinical Lecture Room and Operating Theatre will be enjoyed by this Institution. The want of such accommodation has long been felt as a serious drawback to the Hospital practice of students. Some change in the existing laws of the Province relating to the medical profession is greatly needed, and it is hoped that ere long the powers of the various bodies entitled to grant medical degrees, and also the course of study and examination standards may be better defined. This object might be accomplished, as in England, by a Medical Council established for the purpose, or by incorporating the Medical Faculties with the University system of Upper Canada. The importance of such a change to the medical profession, and also to the whole Province, cannot be doubted, and it is earnestly hoped that the whole subject may ere long receive favorable attention on the part of Government or of the Legislature.

The state of the Bursary scheme will be seen from the accounts in the appendix, and the Trustees have only to add that the funds at their disposal have been very limited, and quite inadequate to meet the wants of deserving young men preparing for the Ministry. As has been already stated, all funds in aid of this scheme received from Church collections, and also such donations from private individuals as may be given with that view, are specially reserved for the benefit of young men who have declared their intention to enter the Ministry. The Trustees have pleasure in adding that they are yearly able to increase the number of competition scholarships open to all students, through the wise liberality of many friends of the Church and College, and that such rewards are not only a great stimulus in the pursuit of learning, but also afford welcome aid to the meritorious student in meeting his necessary expenses.

An important step, which may be expected to exercise a beneficial influence upon the College, was lately taken in establishing a connection between the magnificent Common School system of Upper Canada with the Grammar School of Kingston, now affiliated to Queen's College. A considerable number of Scholarships are offered for competition among boys in the Kingston Common Schools, tenable during their Grammar School course, and several larger Scholarships have been endowed by private individuals from the Grammar Schools of the district to the College. This link has long been wanting, and the regular gradation from the lower education to the higher having been established, it is believed that a much larger proportion of our Canadian youth may be expected to seek the advantage of University training than has hitherto been the case. With the view of aiding this movement, and also of improving both schools, the College Preparatory School was amalgamated with the Kingston Grammar School, the practical control of the latter having been secured to the College. The result so far has been most encouraging. A full and accomplished staff of masters have been secured, and the increase in the number of boys during the very short period which has intervened since the change was effected justifies the expectation that this important feeder to the College will occupy a high position among the educational institutions of Upper Canada.

The Botanical and Astronomical Societies connected with Queen's College have prospered during the past Session, and their contributions to the important sciences which they represent in Canada have been of great value. A portion of the College grounds having been laid out as a Botanical Garden, a fine collection of plants was obtained during the autumn; and the Museum is also enriched by a growing collection of botanical specimens. The public lectures given by the Principal in connection with the Astronomical Society were attended by crowded audiences, and the interest felt in the Society is such as to lead to the confident expectation that the necessary expensive instruments required by the Kingston Observatory will ere long be secured. It must be a subject of no small gratification to the friends of Queen's College to find that she is able, through her learned Principal and Professors, to render such important services to the cause of science, without in any way trenching upon her limited means, or interfering with the course of Collegiate instruction; and the position thus taken cannot fail to raise the character and reputation of the University not only in Canada but also in Europe.

The College Library has received some valuable additions during the past year, and handsome donations of Books have been received from Professor STEVENSON, Convener of the Colonial Committee of the Church of Scotland; Principal LEITCH; ALEX. MORRIS, Esq., M.P.P.; President NELLES, of Victoria College; and others. The general condition of the Library, however, is still far from satisfactory, the number of volumes being only about 4000, with many blanks to be filled up before it can meet the wants of Professors or Students.

The movement made during the past year towards a satisfactory settlement of the long vexed University question in Upper Canada is of very great importance to Queen's College. The misappropriation and wasteful expenditure of the munificent endowment obviously intended for the benefit of University education generally, instead of, as has been practically the case, for the fostering of one College at Toronto to the exclusion of all others, is a fact which has long been anxiously considered by the Trustees. They feel, however, that another question of even greater importance is involved, viz. the elevation and permanence of the University system of Upper Canada. Until the result of the labors of the Government Commission now sitting are laid before Parliament, the effect of this movement cannot be anticipated; but all legislation on the subject will be carefully watched by the Trustees. In order to ascertain the views of other Universities upon this important question, and thus pave the way for its satisfactory settlement, the Principal spent some time in Toronto during the past winter, and met with gratifying success in his endeavors to promote unity of action among the bodies most deeply interested. The Trustees take this opportunity of acknowledging their sense of his valuable services, not only to Queen's College, but also to the cause of University education in this matter; and they cannot better explain the course taken than by giving the following extract from the Principal's able address at the close of the College Session :—

“An attempt was made last winter, by friendly conferences, to come to some understanding as to a plan which might be satisfactory to the various Universities, and, at the same time, effectually promote the cause of higher education. This attempt has been crowned with the most satisfactory success. It was found, in conference, that Universities which by political necessities had been ranged in hostile array against each other, were really one in spirit and in aim—that there was but one universal feeling to do something to raise the character of University education. The grand defect of the present system of affiliation, is that every temptation is presented to lower the standard of education. The kind of rivalry that exists, at present, is one that necessarily tends towards depression. Besides, the resources of the country are dissipated in fragmentary efforts instead of being applied to the maintenance of one grand consistent and national scheme in which the whole country might be embraced. The problem was simply to establish a system which would develop a rivalry tending to the elevation, instead of the lowering of the standard, and to unite the whole into one great national institution. After much consultation a plan was devised which received the most gratifying approval from all the parties chiefly interested in this question. The main feature of the plan is to have one National University Board, meeting at the various associated or affiliated Colleges, which, while retaining their individuality and present independence, will agree to have the course of instruction and the graduation examination regulated by the general University Board—each College or University being equally represented in this Board—to be called the University of Upper Canada. A guarantee will thus be given that the standard of education will be maintained in each College at a proper level, and that no degree shall be conferred except on such students as pass the examination of the examiners of this General Board. It is but just to mention that the University of Toronto, while candidly acknowledging the defects of the present system, has, without a dissenting voice, approved of this plan of securing to Canada a truly National University. The various religious bodies are at present represented in the Senate of the University of Toronto, and their representatives have given a hearty concurrence. We have thus the institutions and parties, hitherto opposed, now as one as to the right constitution of a national University, not confined in its operations to one locality, but embracing the whole province. There is every ground to hope that this unanimity will speedily lead to legislation which will effect a satisfactory and permanent adjustment, and thus gratify the national ambition to have one great National University which may stand on a level with the older Universities of Europe."

Such is a brief statement of the operations of Queen's College during the twentieth year of her existence. In older and more settled countries Colleges may remain for years without apparent growth, and yet at the same time be efficiently fulfilling their appointed duties. The circumstances and rapid growth of Canada, however, demand equally rapid extension on the part of the Institution of whose interests the Trustees are appointed guardians; and they trust that their yearly Reports may show that Queen's College is keeping pace with the wants of the Province. For sympathy and support the Trustees must look in an especial manner to the venerable Synod about to assemble, and also to the Church which that Court so fully represents. That Queen's College, and more especially her Theological Department, may receive favorable attention, is the earnest request of the Board; but they would respectfully add the hope that the members of Synod will bear the interests of the Institution in mind while laboring in their various spheres of usefulness, and more especially that they will commend its educational advantages to parents and youth with whom they may come in contact. Such influences are invaluable in attracting Students to the College Halls, and by their individual exertions, thus exerted under the Divine blessing, may the Ministers and members of the Church aid in the great work of securing a large and well-trained Ministry to build up and extend that Church throughout the Province.

W. IRELAND,
Secretary to Board of Trustees.
